

FINANCIAL LITERACY MONTH

APRIL 2020

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
			1 Saving: If you want to learn about the importance of saving, visit Sammy Rabbit for younger students and Spent for older students.	2 Fun K-12 Financial Activities at Home: Looking for financial activities for families? Check out these parent guides from the Council for Economic Education.	3 Banks: Get your hands on some great resources to share the roles of banks at Hands On Banking .	4 Budgeting: Do you budget? If not, the Bean Game is a wonderful way to get started. All you need is 20 beans!
			5 FREE Resources: The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank is a great place to find K-12 lesson plans, videos, podcasts, and more!	6 Take Charge Today: Once you set up your free account, you will find fun, engaging activities at Take Charge Today .	7 Credit: What's your credit IQ? It's never too young to introduce students to the topic of responsible borrowing and EconEdLink has resources for all ages.	8 Finance in the Classroom: Finance in the Classroom is a great site to find interactives for all students.
12 Stocks: A great way to learn about investing is the Stock Market Game , available to 4 th -12 th grade students.	13 Bonds: Learn about bonds thanks to James Bond , aka Dr. Kris Bertelsen. Also brush up on the history of bonds and play some fun games at Treasury Direct Kids .	14 Fraud Resources: Headline news often spotlights issues with fraud. Take the challenge at Con 'Em If You Can to learn more about scams and fraud through this interactive game.	15 Personal Finance Decision Making: It's as easy as 1, 2, 3! Here are 3 quick resources: A Chair for My Mother Uncle Jed's Barbershop Making Personal Finance Decisions	16 Take Charge: These elementary level lessons plans from Take Charge springboard from popular children's books and focus on financial literacy topics.	17 Money Doesn't Grow on Trees: Find ways people earn money by visiting EconEdLink for younger students and a fun moving activity comparing careers from Next Gen for middle and high schoolers.	18 Investor Protection Trust: Students can learn more about saving and investing at Investor Protection Trust . Be sure and watch the Damon video.
19 When Life Gives You Lemons: Put your money skills to work as you two lemonade stand games: Nick Jr. Hooda Math	20 Great Online Lessons: Visit EconEdlink for lots of free lessons, activities and videos for K-12 educators and students. Many of the videos have Kahoot games.	21 What is a Dollar Worth? Use this calculator to find out the value of a dollar over time!	22 Are You Ready for Some Football? For all you sports enthusiasts, Financial Football might just satisfy your sports interest while also testing your financial literacy skills.	23 Building Wealth: Want to learn how to build your wealth? The Dallas Fed is ready to assist. You will find their classroom resources in the education tab.	24 How are Your Money Habits? Better Money Habits has wonderful resources on a variety of topics like credit, saving, and budgeting.	25 Secret Millionaire's Club: Join Warren Buffett in this animated video series. Digital comics are also available.
26 SchoolHouse Rocks: What's your favorite SchoolHouse Rocks song? Here's a few money songs: $7.50 Once a Week Dollars and Sense Walking on Wall Street	27 Advertising: Become an ad detective as you explore these fun activities.	28 Interest: Use this compound interest calculator to see how your money works for you.	29 Next Gen Personal Finance: Teachers are raving about the great resources for middle and high school at NGPF .	30 Save the Murktide: GeniRevolution provides online financial missions for middle and high school students.	Grade Level Resource Key: K-4 red 5-8 green 9-12 black www.economicsarkansas.org	